What mountain are we climbing?

A photograph of a snow-capped mountain peak, likely Mount Everest, under a clear blue sky. Three flags are planted on the mountain: one at the summit, one on a lower ridge to the right, and one on a lower slope to the left. Each flag is white with a yellow horizontal band and contains text in blue. The flag at the summit reads 'The Best', the flag on the right ridge reads 'The Pack', and the flag on the left slope reads 'Just Beginning'.
